How to use this book

This "City Index" book is used for referencing and tracking various information used in The Isofarian Guard. This index contains a listing of the various Inns, Marketplaces, and Blacksmiths found at each of the six cities across Isofar. If you would prefer to use a digital resource to reference this information, we have this information on the RulePop site below. Simply scan the QR code to be taken to the resource.

City Index

There are six different cities in The Isofarian Guard where the Guards may visit and interact with various nodes. These cities each have their own mini-map to explore. Each city has a Inn, Marketplace, and Blacksmith. Each city also has various nodes where narrative events or side quests may occur.

This index contains a listing of each city sorted alphabetically, and details of what you'll find at each one of those locations.

Inns

Inns are marked with a Campfire sign.

After you move the Guards to a node that has an Inn you may do one of the following actions listed below:

1. Pay the Sil cost to stay at the Inn.
See page 24 in the Rulebook for more on staying at Inns.

2. Gain Prestige with the city by completing "Bounty Quests" and "Puzzle Quests" posted at the Inn.
See page 24 in the Rulebook for more on Prestige.

Bounty Quests are posted by various citizens across Isofar and provide a multitude of rewards for completing them as well as increase the Prestige level with the city. These unique quests are very challenging and feature battles against enemies that are stronger than normal enemies found throughout the narrative. Bounty Quests are unlocked at the start of Chapter 2 of each campaign. The listed rewards are obtained immediately once the "Target" enemies have been defeated in battle. The Guards do not have to return to the Inn to obtain the rewards. Each Campaign has two Bounty Quests per city.

To begin a Bounty Quest, the Guards must visit the city's Inn at least once (to view the posted quests). Select a Bounty Quest from the list at that location. Place a "Scroll Chip" on the listed location to mark that the quest has been started. In order to begin the battle associated with the quest you'll need to move the Guards to the node during the exploration phase. Once the Guards land on the node with the Scroll Chip you have the option to begin the quest or continue with the exploration phase.

Once a Bounty Quest has been completed you'll mark the square next to the quest with an "X", and remove the Scroll Chip from the map. Once completed, these quests cannot be repeated.

In the example below the Guards would battle against a 3 Star Timber Wolf in slots I and II and a 4 Star Dusk Stalker in slots III and IV. All enemies would have +2 ATK above their base stats.

Into The Wolves Den
Location: Node 1
Targets:
Timber Wolf (I) (II)
Dusk Stalker (III) (IV)

All enemies have +2 ATK above base stats.

Reward:
50 Sil
Jade (Speaking Stone)

Once the battle has been victorious you'll obtain the listed rewards, and increase the Prestige with that city. If you don't already have Prestige with the city you'll receive the Prestige +1 Card for that city. If you already have Prestige you'll grab the appropriate Prestige Card, either +2 or +3. The listed benefits on each Prestige Card are then active for the current Guards of the active Campaign. Prestige is obtained separately for each set of Guards at each city per campaign.

Puzzle Quests

Tenebris has found a new foothold in Isofar. A dark miasma has seeped up from deep within the earth, twisting everything it touches. Even the very laws of nature have been turned on their head as Tenebris seeks to fashion the world to suit its own purposes. You must venture into these pockets of corruption and end the threat by sealing Tenebris away, but you will need all of your bravery and guile to do so, for Tenebris is a cunning enemy indeed. As you clear away each pocket of Tenebris, you will earn the respect and gratefulness of the local citizenry. The prestige you earn will open up new benefits, making your quest to save Isofar a little easier.

Puzzle Quests are posted at each Inn and are unlocked at the same time as Prestige at the start of Chapter 2 of each campaign. Completing Puzzle Quests raises the Prestige level with the city. These quests use grid based maps listed in this index, and you'll slide various chips on each grid to solve various objectives. Each Puzzle Quest has objectives listed and keywords to describe how chips work in each puzzle.

To begin a Puzzle Quest, the Guards must visit the city's Inn at least once (to view the posted quests). There is only one Puzzle Quest per Campaign posted at each city's Inn (for a total of 6 Puzzle Quests per Campaign). Place a "Scroll Chip" on the listed location to mark that the quest has been started.

In order to begin the Puzzle Quest you'll need to move the Guards to the node during the exploration phase. Once the Guards land on the node with the Scroll Chip you have the option to begin the quest or continue with the exploration phase.

You may have two quests that use the Scroll Chip active at any one time, and may stop an active quest to begin another at any time.

Puzzle Quest General Rules

1. Sliding Puzzles begin with the appropriate chips laid out on the tile set of each Map. Each Puzzle will show the needed chips and their placement on the Map for the start of the quest. If chips are required for the puzzle that are currently in a Guard's bag, remove the chips, and record what was removed so the chips can be returned to the chip bag when the puzzle is completed.

2. If playing co-op, players may take turns activating Guard Bust Chips.

3. If at any point a failure condition is met, as described in the puzzle, the puzzle is failed. Players must reset the puzzle back to its original state to try again.

4. If at any point the puzzle-specific success condition is met, the puzzle is considered complete.

Puzzle Terminology

Activate: Choose a Guard Bust Chip and one of the 4 cardinal directions. The chosen Guard Bust Chip will move in that direction until they would enter a tile containing a chip that cannot be moved through, or would move off of the Map, whichever comes first.

Activated Chip: A chip that is currently moving across the Map after being Activated.

Map: The starting layout of a puzzle. Each Map has a grid of 60 tiles (spaces) that chips will be placed on and move across. The maps used for Puzzle Quests can be found starting on page 163 of the Quests Book.

Turn: A Turn consists of a single Guard Bust Chip being Activated and ends when there are no more Activated Chips. Guard Bust Chips can be Activated in any order, and the same Guard Bust Chip can be Activated multiple times consecutively. Puzzle Quests have to be completed within a certain number of Turns to be completed successfully.

Puzzle Quest Chip Keywords

Each Puzzle Quest will list the chips used in that puzzle, and an associated keyword for how that chip operates in the puzzle. You can find the definitions of those keywords below.

Fatal: If a Guard Bust Chip would enter a tile containing this chip, the puzzle is failed.

Impassable: This chip cannot be moved through. If an Activated Chip would enter a tile containing an Impassable chip, the Activated Chip instead ends its movement at the last tile it successfully moved into.

Mutable: This chip has special properties that are specific to the puzzle. Those properties will be listed in that puzzle's setup and description.

Shovable: This chip cannot be moved through. If an Activated Chip would enter a tile containing a Shovable chip, the Activated Chip instead ends its movement at the last tile it successfully moved into. The Shovable Chip then becomes Activated, moving in the same direction the original chip was moving in.

Stackable: When a Guard Bust Chip moves over a tile containing a Stackable chip, place the Guard Bust Chip on top of the Stackable chip and continue movement in the original direction. Whenever that Guard Bust Chip is Activated, both the Guard Bust Chip and all Stackable chips move as one.

Marketplaces

Marketplaces are marked with a Potion sign. When the Guards land on a Marketplace node you may choose to "Buy" or "Sell" various materials that can benefit the Guards on their journey across Isofar. These materials may include food items that can heal the Guards, or grant bonuses in battle. You'll also find "Enemy Drops" which are materials that are required to craft equipment at Blacksmiths. See page 25 in the rulebook for more on Marketplaces.

Blacksmiths

Blacksmiths are marked with an Anvil sign. When the Guards land on a Blacksmith node you may choose to "Craft" or "Sell" various equipment. See page 26 in the rulebook for more on Blacksmiths.
